CHILDREN’S ONLINE PRIVACY ACT (“COPPA”) NOTICE

Effective Date: December 14, 2020

Colliga Apps (“Colliga,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) is committed to privacy and data protection. The Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act of 1998 and its rules (collectively, “COPPA”) require us to inform parents and legal guardians (as used in this policy, “parents” or “you”) about our practices for collecting, using, and disclosing personal data from children under the age of 13 (“children” or “child”) through the use of our applications or affiliated research studies (“Services”). This notice (“COPPA Notice”) provides additional details regarding the practices described in the Children’s Privacy section of our Privacy Policy, available at: https://colligaapps.com/wp-content/uploads/2021/02/privacy_policy.pdf

This COPPA Notice only applies to the data collection practices of Colliga Apps mobile applications and affiliated research studies directed to or involving children under the age of 13 and supplements the Privacy Notice located at: https://colligaapps.com/wp-content/uploads/2021/02/privacy_policy.pdf

How Do We Protect Children’s Privacy?

Colliga takes special precautions to protect the privacy of children using our mobile applications and participating in any affiliated research studies. If you have a question about whether a particular application or use of personal information is directed to children, please contact us by sending an email to contact@colligaapps.com.

What Data Do We Collect from Children?

Colliga, upon obtaining express parental consent, collects personal information that includes the personal information currently listed in our general Privacy Policy, which can be found at: https://colligaapps.com/wp-content/uploads/2021/02/privacy_policy.pdf

How Do We Integrate Colliga Apps with Third-Party Hardware or Software?

Through the use of Colliga mobile applications and participation in affiliated research studies, Colliga may also integrate with third-devices and services, including, but not limited to, the following hardware and software. Colliga has provided links to the policies of each in this section.

Please be aware that Colliga cannot control the collection, use, and maintenance of information by the companies and products listed below. Should you have a request related to your child's personal information, Colliga can in no way guarantee that this request will be met by any of the companies responsible for the hardware and software listed below.

Please be sure to familiarize yourself with their privacy practices before allowing their use by your child under the age of 13.

- Google Android Phone(s).

How Does Colliga Use Children's Personal Data?

Colliga uses children's personal data to provide Services through its mobile application or in affiliation with a research study, both of which Colliga has to obtain your express, verifiable parental consent for their use.

This may include communicating with the child several times, through video conferencing technology, such as Zoom, for which you would have provided your express consent, if this occurs.

We may use the non-personally identifiable data we collect to improve the Services and to deliver a better and more personalized experience.

Colliga retains personal data in a form which permits identification of a child for as long as necessary to provide the Services or Research Study in which the child is participating, or for other business purposes such as complying with our legal obligations, resolving disputes, and enforcing our agreements.

Colliga is required by law to keep some types of information for certain periods of time (for example, a statute of limitations).

When Do We Disclose Children’s Personal Data?

Colliga does not sell or rent children’s personal data.

Colliga may disclose aggregated or de-identified data about many of our users when data that does not identify any individual or device. In addition, we may disclose children’s personal data:

- If we are required to do so by law or legal process, such as to comply with any court order or subpoena or to respond to any government or regulatory request;
- If we believe disclosure is necessary or appropriate to protect the rights, property, or safety our company, our customers or others, including to protect the safety of a child, protect the safety and security of the Services; or enable us to take precautions against liability; or
- To law enforcement agencies or for an investigation related to public safety.

In addition, if Colliga is involved in a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of the Colliga’s assets, whether as a going concern or as part of bankruptcy, liquidation, or similar proceeding or event, Colliga may transfer the personal data we have collected or maintain to the buyer or other successor.

How Can You Access, Review, and Update Your Child’s Personal Data?

At any time and upon providing proper identification, you may access and review your child’s personal data maintained by Colliga, request that Colliga update or delete such personal data, and/or refuse to allow us from further collecting or using your child’s personal data.

You can review, change, or delete your child’s personal data by sending Colliga an email at contact@colligaapps.com. To protect your and your child’s privacy and security, Colliga may require you to take certain steps or provide additional information to verify your identity before Colliga provides any personal data or makes any corrections.

We understand that you may have questions or concerns about this COPPA Notice or our privacy practices or may wish to file a complaint. In such case, please contact at:
